These documents, relating to the business of John and Francis Baring and Co, Sir Francis Baring and Co, and Baring Brothers and Co, were found in 'The Grill' in the basement of 8 Bishopsgate on the removal of Barings to temporary offices at 88 Leadenhall Street in 1973.

Apparently the documents had been arranged in bundles by a Mr Ripman and a Mr Allanson in the 1930s when the regular business of Barings was at a level which meant that staff were available for such tasks. It is not known if the arrangement of the papers was altered by Mr Ripman and Mr Allanson but there is some evidence that this may have been so. However, the arrangement of the documents when found in 1973 has been maintained here, except in a few instances where regrouping seemed to be an obvious course of action.
